Los Angeles, CA 90026

PARKING: Parking is free in facility lot

Housing itself is not enough to ensure a consumer's recovery. Continued support is needed from mental health providers to promote resiliency and hope to not only attain but sustain housing. This workshop will focus on how mental health providers can assist consumers before and after being housed utilizing the Housing First model. Different types of housing options are reviewed along with ways to coordinate with individualized consumer needs.

TARGET AUDIENCE: DMH Employees and Contractors

OBJECTIVES: As a result of attending this training, participants should be able to:

1. Describe how to assist a consumer before and after he/she is housed.
2. Explain how housing support is linked with recovery.
3. Identify two main tenants of the Housing First model.
4. Identify three different types of housing options.
5. Discuss which types of housing options are appropriate for various consumers.
6. Articulate particular barriers which interfere in maintaining homeless consumers housed.
